THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW. The passing away of an old year and the adcent of a new one, is always a time for reflection and solemn consideration. Few there are, who fail, at last then, to pause long enough amid the business and pleasures of life, to remember that they are one year older-that another notch has been made in the channel down which their footsteps tend, one at a time towards the grave, Few there are so virtuous and good as not to have, at such a time, much to repent of and for which to be forgiven, in the past, and few so had that they do not on out of this baptism of tire and blood chastened the New Year's day, make some resolutions to do better for the future. But the present birth day of the New Year, came laden with subjects of tast national importance in addition to those prove enumerated of a personal nature. On le fourth of March, A. D., one thousand eight bundred and sixty-one, a President of these United States, logally chosen, and elected, was inaugmated jugler circumstances peculiar, Felenia, and portenions. By the first of April seven States had secould from the Union, and on the 13th of the same month, the glorious Stars and Stripes, the Bag of the Union, was Avered at Fort Sumter to an overwhelming ment-when she shall be the largest, most powloger of rebels in arms against their country.like a meteoric flash this news darted through our land, and awakened in all the loyal States experience and of Providential chastenings. such a glow of patriotism as the world never be held, and beholding, worshood. On Saturday, the 13th of April, 1861, President Lincoln is aied his proclamation calling for $5,000 men, ad on the following Wednesday, Penasylvania, Naw York and Massichusetts, had their men tray for departure for the seat of Government. The militia of Bhode Island and of other States though last there mentles would end the war, be Knowles, Authory & Danielson. and subdic the rebellion. But now for twenty months icless been waged, and yet the rebellion still exists, and as formidable as when it first Mic may Deging this time, and especially during -Br tas year our nation has been severely tried. world higging here been ereated almost day by day. The prefight of a Democratic Government has head fired as by a furnace seven times heated. Let our Government stands the test. From 75,000 men first called into service, we have had in the field nearly a million, armed and equipped. We have stood the test of and glity things in the way of men, and mighty things in the way of money. Vast amounts have been raised and vaster amounts provided for, yet we have stood the test. Sadder them these, we have been tested by the pressure of Open foreign foce without, and domestic foce and restors within -yet have we stood. Saddest of all, we have stood the test of the most gigandefrands wrought by avarieious and unworthy seions against their mother country, when she was bleeding at every pore-curses on their miserly heads! Yet have we taken no step tents, backwards. During the past year, we have added army to army, and battles have been fought with varied success, and more than all, our brave volunteers have exhibited the sublimest and most enduring courage and patriotism which the world has seen since the pass of Thirmopyles, and the Rappahannock will be as famous in history as the Rubicon. Prayers have usecuded from priviotic hearts in the "great cangregation" that the God of battles hosts the victory-prayers and lamers from have ascended from stricken homes,

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW. The passing away of an old year and the advent of a new one, is always a time for reflection and salemn consideration. Pew there are, who fail, at last then, to pause long enough amid the business and pleasures of life, to remember that they are one year older-that another notch has been made in the channel down which their footsteps tend, one at a time, towards the grave. Few there are so virtuous and good as not to have, at such a time, much to repent of and for which to be forgiven, in the past, and few so bad that they do not on the New Year's day, make some resolutions to by of the New Year, came laden with subjects and as a comdo beiter for the future. But the present birth of rast perional importance in addition to those above enumerated of a personal nature. On) e fourth of March, A. We have stood the test of soighty things in the way of men, and mighty things in the way of money. Vast amounts have been mised and vaster amounts provided for, yet we have stood the test. Sadder than these, we have been tested by the pressure of , xe, loreign fees without, and domestic fees and rations within-yet have we stood. Saddest of all, we have stood the test of the most gigansie frands wrought by avaricious and unworthy gious against their mother country, when she was bleeding at every pore-curses on their miserly heads! Yet have we taken no step backwards. During the past year, we have added army to army, and battles have been fought with varied saccess, and more than all, our brave volunteers have exhibited the sublimest and most enduring conrage and patriotism which the world has seen since the pass of Thermopyle, and the Rappahannock will be as famous in history as the Rubicon. Arbany, 2nd,

The extendates of the inauguration of Governo Seymour took place yestenlay in the presence of a large concourse of citizens and strangers. After the anth of allegiance had been administered Gov. Morgan who appeared at the speakers desk in company with his successor deligred an interest ng congramlatory address callinghis attention to the highly prosperous condition it the State over which he had been called to proble and closing with some performant allusions, to be store, of ou national atlairs. The millions of people he said who are now armsed by imaginary wrongs to darce passion cannot at ourse return to reasontheir resentment must have time to cool and the delusion under which they are acting to be dissipated.

But the day mest surely come when the people of the south will again own the same sovereignty honor the same laws and light under the same flag. At prevent we must use the sword. It cannot be sheathed until these who are now in rebellion shall Jay down their arms and the con-litution, and the laws have uniform sway. At the conclusion of Gor, Morgana address which was woundy applauded, Gov. Seymo uv delivered his inaugurai address Goy.
